Executive Summary

This document, D7.1 'Risk Management Plan', describes the risk management within SUMMIT and the process to foresee risks, estimate the impact and how to define responses. An important part of risk management is the risk table in which all risks are defined and how to deal with them.

In this plan the moderate and serious risks identified during the first 18 months of the project are listed and assessed. The risk factors of the risks are determined based on likelihood and impact and a mitigation and contingency plan is developed. In the next (and last) 18 months of the project the risks will be closely monitored and reported on. At the end of the project an updated version of this plan will be submitted as deliverable D7.2 'Risk Management Progress Report'.
